LOCAL JOTS.

Sweet Saturday night.
Mrs. Jac. Leviberg at Ida Hitchcock's benefit.

The local railroad pool goes into effect to-morrow.

J. T. White, Magnet Song, Ida Hitchcock's benefit.

Main street presented a conference appearance this afternoon.

Jennie Hawley, Home-Sweet Home, Ida Hitchcock's benefit.

The "Patience" artists are expected to return to-morrow evening.

The announce event of Professor Careless' concert has created quite a hubbub in musical circles.

The Utah Commission will meet in Washington on the 31st of March and in this city April 10th.

A very pleasant select party, under the direction of Mrs. Hamilton, was given at Sheldon's Hall last evening.

The Fort Douglas concert to-morrow afternoon commences at 3 o'clock. A fine programme has been arranged.

H. C. Jacobs, Clerk of the Utah Lime & Cement Co., is thirty-nine years of age to-morrow; a long and happy life to live.

The members of the Salt Lake cricket club will meet at the shoe factory to-night to make some arrangements for the coming season.

The Grand Jury was not in session to-day, but the wicked had not ceased from troubling; neither are the weary Deputy Marshals at rest.

"Theatrical Chit-Chat" makes its first appearance in the columns of the DEMOCRAT to-day. It will be a spicy column of our Saturday's issue hereafter.

The Theatre box office, for the sale of seats for Prof. Careless' concert, will be opened next Wednesday. A great many tickets have already been sold.

A very creditable performance was given last night by the Sixth Ward variety troupe in the Tenth Ward meeting house. The attendance was good.

All who attend the Methodist Church to-morrow morning and evening will certainly be highly entertained and greatly profited by listening to Rev. Mr. Carroll.

There is but one arm chair in Marshal Phillip's office capacious enough to hold Officer Pratt. It measures four feet, two inches across, and Pratt goes in with a squeak.

Last night the DEMOCRAT called for the equinoctial storm. The equinoctial storm immediately came. The voice of the DEMOCRAT seems to be heeded, even by the elements.

We are indebted to the Provo Enquirer for much of our matter pertaining to the Utah insane asylum, which appears in this issue. By the way, the Enquirer has shown a marked improvement lately.

President John Taylor is understood to be dangerously ill. Last night the primaries of this city were asked to pray for him, and to call upon the Lord for his recovery. He is believed to be in the city.

The last railroad race of the season occurred this morning between the Utah Central and Rio Grande, coming down from Ogden. The race was an exciting one, and resulted in a victory for the baby engine.

The Main Street tailor, who left the city several weeks ago to solicit orders in the country, has evidently gone a long ways into the country to drum up customers. He is believed to be taking in the towns along the line of Mr. Varian's road.

PERSONAL.

Judge Emerson was in the metropolis to-day.

C. F. Annette, of telephonic fame, went to Ogden this morning.

F. C. Gentsch, the Pacific Express agent, honored the Junction City with a visit to-day.

THE NEW EMPORIUM.

The Magnificent Establishment Opened by R. K. Thomas To-Day.

The old Emporium corner, one of the best and most popular business stands in the city, was again thronged with shoppers to-day, Mr. R. K. Thomas having formally opened his mammoth establishment this morning. A bright omen of the success that will be met with by Mr. Thomas was the fact that, although the opening was not announced to take place until to-day, the place was so besieged with customers yesterday afternoon that the proprietor was compelled to throw open the doors, and a brisk trade was kept up during the entire afternoon.

A DEMOCRAT reporter visited the establishment this morning and was highly gratified to observe the extensive preparations that have been made by Mr. Thomas for a heavy spring trade, indicating, as it does, that Mr. Thomas is confident of a revival of business. The Emporium has been entirely rearranged. New counters and new shelving have been put in and everything has been done for the convenience of customers that possibly could be. One of the most noticeable improvements is a large, upright nickel show case, placed just back of the front window, in which some attractive displays will be made.

The immense stock of dry goods and ladies' misses' and boys' furnishings entirely fills the building. Mr. Thomas ordered his foreign goods directly from the importers, while the domestic goods come direct from the heaviest New York dealers. He is therefore enabled to successfully compete with any similar establishment in the west.

The stock for the boot and shoe department has not yet arrived, but the orders are being filled at the factories, and this department will be one of the most complete in the city.

Mr. Thomas' long experience in the dry goods business in this city has especially fitted him to anticipate and meet the wants of the public in this line, and we bespeak a most successful career for the new Emporium establishment.

Conference Rates.

The DEMOCRAT yesterday mentioned the fact that the Utah Central and Rio Grande Western, were considering the establishment of regular conference rates to Salt Lake during conference time, but it is now learned there is little probability of their doing so, although the matter is to be settled at the Denver pool meeting. The Rio Grande people are not only willing, but anxious, to afford the country people an opportunity to do their spring trading, but the Utah Central folks do not regard the proposition with any favor, as it would, to a certain extent, defeat the objects of the church authorities in holding conference at Logan, which, for obvious reasons they do not care to do, although it would be thousands of dollars in their pockets. Under the recent pool arrangements, one road cannot give special rates without the consent of the other. Country people, therefore, who desire to come to Salt Lake to do their spring trading, will either be compelled to pay regular fare or purchase an excursion ticket to Logan, and stop off at this city.

District Court.

Following were the proceedings in the District Court this forenoon:

A. M. Eddy et al. vs. E. A. Ireland; case argued by counsel and submitted to jury on instructions of the court. Jury retires. Exceptions to instructions.

Flora B. Gucher vs. Robert Warnock; defendant files motion to strike out part of the complaint. Proceedings stayed pending the motion.

E. Eisenberg et al. vs. Wm. M. Lacy; plaintiffs move for a continuance.

Henry Denhalter vs. Wm. M. Lacy; Woods & Hoffman for plaintiffs, Hall & Marshall for defendant; jury waived and case tried before the court. Chas. Denhalter and Henry Denhalter called by plaintiffs.

The jury in the case of Eddy et al. vs. E. A. Ireland came in this afternoon with a verdict for plaintiff. The case will be appealed.

PASSENGER RATES.

The New Tariff Adopted by the Utah Pool.

The joint passenger tariff, adopted by the Utah pool, was issued to-day. Following are the rates to the most important points:

Salt Lake to Ogden, $2; to Farmington, 85 cents; Bingham Junction, 50 cents; to American Fork, $1.65; to Provo, $2.30; to Springville, $2.55; to Spanish Fork, $2.85.

No round trip tickets will be sold to any pool point, and no passengers will be carried on freight trains. Baggage in excess of 150 pounds will be charged for at the rate of one cent per mile per hundred pounds.

Police Court Paragraphs.

[The equinoctial storm whirled a regular cyclone of drunks into the city jail last night. Following are those who were brought before Justice Speirs to-day:

Patrick McCarthy, drunk, profane and disorderly, $15.

John Eckert, drunk and trespass $5.

Joseph Ashton, drunk and profane, $10.

James Hamilton, drunk, disorderly and profane; set for 2 o'clock.

Henry Moore, same offense, same time set for trial.

Church Notice.

MINING MATTERS.

The Extensive Developments of the New Emma.

Glowing Reports from the Crescent.

Mining News From All Parts of the Territory.

THE NEW EMMA.

The history of the Emma mine, in Little Cottonwood district, is almost co-existent with the history of mining in Utah. This mine has been operated by three different companies, has been sold at marshal's sale, bringing $400,000, and has added between five and six million dollars to the mineral wealth of the world. The ore bodies near the surface were worked out by the Emma and the American Emma mining companies, after which it passed into the hands of the New Emma company, which has been developing the property on a most extensive plan. A resume of what has been done under the management of the new company will be of interest to all who are interested in mining matters.

The old workings were abandoned at the outset and a tunnel was started lower down the hill. At the mouth of this tunnel works have been erected on a plan admirably suited to that locality, as they are excavated into the side of the hill and so constructed that snow slides cannot carry them away. These works contain four 50-horse power boilers. The tunnel has been run into the hill a distance of 1,760 feet, encountering the vein at 1,300 feet. At the end of this tunnel a large chamber was excavated and the main shaft started. The chamber contains a 40-horse power hoisting engine. The steam for operating this engine and the pumps below it is conducted from the boilers at the mouth of the tunnel.

The main shaft is 5 x 13 feet in the clear and is divided into two compartments, the upper compartment being 4 x 3 feet, being used for hoisting and the other for the pumping apparatus.

At a depth of 135 feet from the top of the main shaft the first pumping station was established. A chamber, 20x35 feet, was excavated, which contains a large Worthington pump with a capacity of 100 gallons per minute and a small Knowlton pump. From this station a cross-cut was run 100 feet to the vein and 750 feet of leveling work done. Some very fine ore, running as high as 1,000 ounces per ton, was encountered in this level.

At the bottom of the shaft, 245 feet from the top, a second pump station was established, which is provided with apparatus similar to that of the first station. The Worthington pumps have been run at only half their capacity, as that is sufficient to keep the water out of the mine at present.

At the bottom of the shaft a second cross-cut, forty feet in length, has been run to the vein, and a level established, which is now 100 feet in length. Work has been prosecuted on this level, when the recent snow slide came and necessitated a temporary suspension of operations. Altogether about 3,000 feet of development work has been done by the new company.

The only damage done by the snow slide of last winter was the carrying away of the four smoke stacks. Just as soon as the tramway is opened new stacks will be taken up, and until then the mine will remain idle. It is expected the tramway will be opened about the middle of May, and within ten days thereafter the development work will be resumed. Considerable stopping will be done during the coming season, and everything indicates the inauguration of another productive era for this great mine.

THE CRESCENT.

The latest reports received from the Crescent mine are most flattering. The lower tunnel is still being pushed into the hill, and rich ore is steadily encountered. No stopping has yet been done, but 40,000 tons of ore are stored in the mine, awaiting the opening of the tramway. The daily shipments now are from seventy-five to one hundred tons, which is taken part of the distance on sleds and then transferred to wagons. As soon as the present equinoctial storm is over the tramway will be clear of snow, the mill started up and the immense resources of the mine will then be demonstrated. There is no question but the season of '85 will witness an immense output for the Crescent, and the long looked for dividends ought to be forthcoming immediately. No Crescent stock can now be purchased for less than $1, and it is considered as sound an investment as the local stock board affords, at that figure.

THE VALLEJO.

The damage done to this property by the snow-slide of last winter was not nearly so great as was reported. A large force of men is now being worked at the mine. It is not likely the cable tramway will be replaced. Superintendent Reed will be in the city in a few days, when a detailed account of the condition of the mine will be given.

NEWFOUNDLAND DISTRICT.

Every additional report received indicates that this district is bound to come into prominence during the coming season. The Newfoundland district lies west of the Great Salt Lake, and has been comparatively unknown until quite recently. A number of Salt Lake parties are said to have "struck it rich," and contemplate extensive development work during the coming season. Mr. John Cook returned last night and brought several fine samples of copper ores which are being tested to-day.

THE ORE MARKET.

But little has been done in the ore market during the past week. Owing to the bad condition of the roads but little ore has been offered, and as a consequence, prices were good. The Hanauer smelter is running two stacks and treating sixty tons of ore per day. Another stack will be put in operation in about six weeks. The Horn Silver smelter is still running.

For Sale.

To a man that understands the restaurant business and catering for parties and lodge suppers, a well established business for sale. Has a fine run of business. Can be bought cheap. No such chance ever offered in Lake City. Enquire of H. O. STEARNS, 120 Main Street.

The Newspaper of an Epoch.

(Communicated.)

It has been said that newspapers represent the prevailing sentiments of the community in which they circulate, and that as exponents of public opinion, they have a right to exist. Some newspapers spring into existence to meet the demands of the times; others are called into being by a change in popular feeling or by a new order of things. A new theory in politics, a reform of abuses, or a popular outcry against unjust measures and wicked legislation, demands an organ for the expression of each idea and each such a newspaper will always command the support of its friends and the respect of the people. Especially is this true of the DEMOCRAT, which, coming as it did to meet a long-felt want, was immediately borne upon the shoulders of popular approval. Its advent was hailed with joy by thousands of good, true Democrats, who have had the best of reasons for being dissatisfied with the course of the People's Party in the past, and as for the Liberal Party, they would not have anything to do with a party, one of whose chief doctrines is the subversion of popular liberties.

The DEMOCRAT suits the desire of thousands of young men in this Territory, who have long felt the need of an organ to advocate their rights to freedom in politics, unhindered either by the advice or command of their elders. This newspaper has been the outcome of a series of popular agitations and public meetings on the part of the restless young men, who declared as the unalienable rights of every American citizen that church interference should not be allowed in politics. They wanted to relegate church affairs and State politics to their proper places. "Church and State must be kept forever distinct," was the refrain cry, which is the sentiment of the DEMOCRAT, and will always be maintained until the result is achieved. That there is a change in the opinions of the majority of young men within the pale of the church has been made very plain, even to the most ignorant minds, by the repulse of the sons of Church members at the empanelling of juries in polygamy cases. The invariable answer is, "I don't believe in polygamy," or "I believe the revelation on polygamy to be spurious." This clearly shows the drift of opinion on the part of the rising generation. Let us retract, while it is yet time. Better let polygamy go, and we shall secure the approval of the world and, what is of more inestimable value to us, we shall be reinstated in all our political rights, and admitted into the glorious galaxy of States in the Union. Congress will doubtless deal leniently by us, in case we should discard the unhappy tenet of polygamy from our doctrines and will legalize the offspring of the men who conscientiously believed they were doing the will of God in entering into polygamy.

When the Saints ruled supreme in this valley the Deseret was made the official organ of the church, and it was the sole medium of news to them.

The SALT LAKE DEMOCRAT comes into being at the same time with the national Democratic administration, and as long as that administration continues in existence, so long will this paper live, to advocate, sans peur et sans reproche, the inherent doctrine of popular sovereignty, or in other words, self-government, which belongs to true Democracy as personified in Jefferson and, let us hope, in Cleveland also.
